CA' Pietra

Concept & Decorative Collection

How to buy Ca' Pietra products

Concept and decorative. Colours and patterns. Ca' Pietra.

Welcome to the next chapter in our journey through a world of colours, patterns, textures and designs. There are natural wonders here, and man-made marvels – the very best of both worlds.

There are a number of additions to our first collection of Concept & Decorative products. You'll see yet more innovation and variation in our popular Encaustic Tile Collection on pages 54–63. And we've discovered some wonderful new natural stones too – we are always alert to style, quality and value.

I hope you have as much fun leafing through these pages as I've had scouring the world for new ways to bring colour and style to the home.

Free samples

We are happy to send free swatch samples of any Ca' Pietra product that you select from this brochure. Just visit www.capietra.com to request your free samples. We strongly recommend you visit your Ca' Pietra retailer to view full size samples before making your final decision, though. We do everything in our power to ensure that the colours and textures of each product are accurately represented in our brochures and online, but tiles can always look slightly different depending on the light and their environment.

How to order

Once you've made your final decision and you are ready to order, please work with your retailer to establish exactly what you need in terms of square metres, wastage, pattern layouts, delivery access and deadline. Your retailer will then secure your stock with our customer services team and agree a delivery date. Before you know it, you'll have a beautiful new floor, wall covering or countertop.

Design help and technical advice

With a little bit of planning, good technical advice and a professional installer, you'll find that installation of any of these Ca' Pietra Concept & Decorative products will be as smooth as a lovely piece of honed limestone or porcelain! Don't forget, you can call the Ca' Pietra Technical Helpline at any time for assistance or advice – 0844 915 0002 (Monday–Friday).

Natural stone tiles

Angora Marble honed

A luxurious marble with a wonderfully sleek appearance that makes it irresistibly tactile. Its colour palette combines a soft mixture of brown and pink, with delicate undertones of grey and mauve. It is a great stone for modern interiors that require a subtle injection of colour and warmth.

These striking limestone bricks are so versatile that they can act as subtle back-drop or as a stunning focal point such as a feature wall or a chimney breast. Each tile undergoes a cropping technique, whereby the stone is split in half to reveal a unique, coarse finish. The extra-long bricks add a contemporary twist.

Peruvian Travertine Collection honed and filled

This Peruvian travertine is so compact that our 457 x 915mm tile is just 10mm thick. That makes each tile lighter, easier to manoeuvre, cut and install. It has fewer cavities than you normally associate with travertine and so needs only minimal filling and less maintenance in the long-term. There are natural variations in tone within the three colour selections in the range. Suitable for interior floors and walls (sealing required, see pages 86 and 88).

3D Veneer Brick Collection natural

Our 3D veneer is a thin layer of riven, natural stone backed with a fibrous resin. This gives it a degree of flexibility so that it can be applied to curved walls and surfaces. The pieces range from 1.5mm to 5mm thick. When they are laid, the overall surface has a three dimensional effect, that can be enhanced even further by downlighters. It's perfect for bathrooms and for feature walls such as chimney breasts, spas and restaurants. We don't recommend using this tile in a wet room or shower because constant water on the protruding edges could require excessive cleaning work.

Suitable for interior walls.

Handmade encaustic cement tiles

Encaustic tiles – in which the pattern or figure on the surface is a product of different colours of clay – were first made in Europe in the late 19th century. They were used to decorate the floors of palaces in St. Petersburg, Gaudi's distinctive houses in Barcelona, and grand hallways from Paris to Saigon. Today they are to be found in countless chic bars, restaurants and designer-homes in London, Paris and New York.

All of our encaustic tiles are handmade using natural materials. That means that, unlike glazed tiles, Ca' Pietra encaustic tiles will develop their own patina and quickly develop a beautiful, lived-in look.

Brief guidelines for installing and maintaining natural stone and encaustic tiles

We recommend that you employ a proven professional for installation, but here are some guidelines that you can consider. Once installed correctly, our tiles are as long-lasting as they are beautiful and should be very easy to maintain.

On receipt of your order

When you receive your order, check that you have all of your tiles and that they are in good condition. These are 100% natural or hand-crafted products and so there will, of course, be some variations in colour tone and natural character that makes them unique and beautiful. We recommend that you 'shuffle' tiles from different boxes/crates so that you have a uniform effect across the entirety of the new surface.

Prior to installation

Both sides of the tile should be wiped clean of any dust before installation and the top surface should be wiped again after installation and before sealing and grouting takes place.

You must create a flat, level and stable surface – preferably of concrete – on to which the tiles can be laid. If you do this on a timber surface, the floor will need overlaying with a suitable tile backer-board such as NoMorePly (www.nomoreply.net). You can also use this product to tile on to timber-framed walls.

If you are tiling on to walls in damp and wet areas, we recommend you fully tank (waterproof) the walls with a specific tanking system such as Mira or similar.

If you are tiling on to an underfloor, heated screed the floor will need priming and overlaying with a movement uncoupling membrane such as our own Stone Essentials Decomat or Isomat. This will help prevent any shrinkage or cracking that may occur in the screed being transferred through to the tiles.

The tiles can be cut using a diamond-blade – ideally a water-cooled machine. Constantly spraying with water while cutting will help to prevent chipped edges.

Installation

Use a good-quality, flexible, semi-rapid, white, tile-adhesive and carefully follow any instructions on the manufacturer's label. Ensure 100% coverage of each tile with adhesive, and remove excess adhesive with a damp cloth before it hardens.

Level the tiles using hand pressure only. Using a mallet or rubber hammer could cause cracking.

Sealing your tiles

Once your tiles are installed you will need to use an impregnating sealant for protection against fading and staining. This should be applied after they have been installed (and cleaned) but prior to grouting. You should apply a second coat after grouting.

Ongoing maintenance

You could also choose to apply a surface wax as this will offer further protection and give an attractive patina (encaustic tiles and rustic tumbled stones in non-wet areas only). This would be applied after grouting

You can also lightly polish tiles with a soft pad. If the tiles become heavily soiled we recommend scrubbing them with a stronger, specialist detergent such as Ca' Pietra Extreme Clean.

If the tiles are very heavily used, you may find that you will need to re-seal your tiles more regularly. You could also choose to apply a surface wax as this will offer further protection and give an attractive patina. We would also recommend this process if the tiles are being used for a cooker splash back.

IMPORTANT NOTE

These are very general guidelines and not definitive instructions. The issuer of these guidelines cannot be held responsible for installation. It is always recommended that a qualified and professional tiler should take responsibility for the installation of all stone and tile products.

You will now need to apply a second coat of sealant. This should be applied to the grout as well as the tiles and, if desired/required, a surface coating. See 'Ongoing maintenance' below.

Further recommendations

Prior to installation you should store your tiles in a dry place

- Do not install tiles during very hot weather
- Avoid direct sunlight on to the tiles during installation (prior to sealing the tiles)
- Never use acids or alkalines to clean tiles
- Use a pH neutral cleaner such as our Ca' Pietra Multi Clean
- Use mats at entrance/exit areas where grit may enter the house

Our stones come in a range of finishes – these may be for aesthetic or practical effect. In a bathroom, for example, you may want a more textured finish for better slip resistance. If you are restoring a heritage property, an ageing process such as distressed will help you to match existing materials.

Distressed flat surface, fettered and cushioned edges, usually crafted by hand.

Etched sand-blasted finish for texture.

Honed leaves the surface smooth and flat.

Riven naturally split stone.

Satino textured surface, edges usually square.

Seasoned is a combination of tumbled and satino with rounded edges and a textured, non-slip surface.

Tumbled soft, round edges, grained surface.

Velvet the stone is sandblasted to give it a bleached, etched effect and then undergoes a satino process which gives it a tactile, velvety feel.

Vintaged textured surface with fettered edges.

Weathered hand fettered edges, open-grain surface.

Worn a smoothing process to create the effect of antique, riven flagstones.
